THE Art of Filet Crocheting consists of a few foundation stitches by which every design is constructed and from it one may easily learn this fascinating work without other assistance. The patience to follow carefully and the perseverance to complete what is begun will develop wonderful results from this interesting occupation.

The spaces (sp.) referred to in this book consist of 2 chain (ch.) missing 2 stitches (st.) of the previous row and making 1 double (d.) in the next stitch and when the number of a group (gr.) of consecutive doubles is given it includes the double of the previous space.

Abbreviations

Chain (ch.); single crochet (s.); double crochet (d.); treble crochet (t.); space (sp.); group (gr.); picot (p.); stitch (st.); slip stitch (sl. st.)

A picot is formed by chaining 3 or more stitches and catching back in first stitch of chain, which makes a loop.

Directions for the more elaborate designs are given in this book. The simpler ones may be easily worked by placing a card under the line of the illustration to be copied and using it under each line until the design is completed.
